Living

Through the process of expressing and recognizing their emotions, babies develop EQ. They also develop Spiritual Quotient (SQ) as they form bonds with their parents. And as they begin to observe and remember their surroundings, they develop Ecological Intelligence (EI) as well.

As babies get to know the names of each body part, they develop IQ. Also as they move their bodies and play with their parents in nature, babies develop EQ, Spiritual Quotient (SQ), and Ecological Intelligence (EI).

Language

Emotion

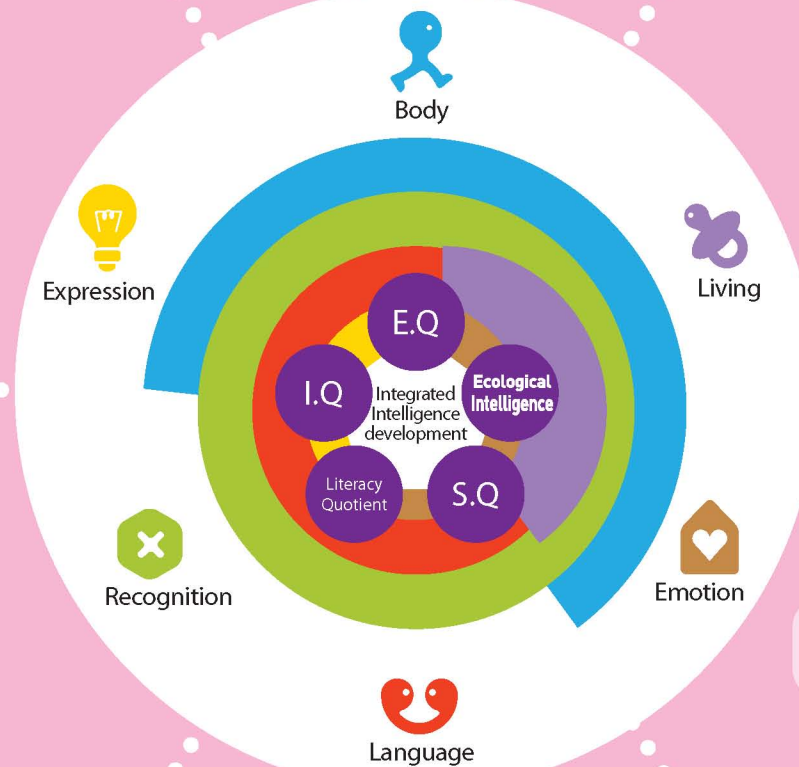

As babies recognize their feelings and express them, they develop EQ, Spiritual Quotient (SQ) and Literacy intelligence Quotient (LQ). They also develop Ecological Intelligence (EI) as they form bonds with their surroundings.

Expression

In the process of solving problems and expressing themselves in a new way, babies develop IQ and Literacy intelligence Quotient (LQ). Also, babies develop EQ as they gain confidence, become more adventurous and develop the patience required to solve problems.

Recognition

In the process of getting to know a new environment and acquiring the ability to adapt to it, the baby develops integrated intelligence including IQ, EQ, EI, SQ, LQ.
